the district monitors groundwater levels to ensure they are not overpumped. It also finds sources of water to replenish what's taken out by the 4 million people living in the district's 420 square mile service area. That puts Southern California decades ahead of much of the Central Valleycooking them over the boiling water instead of in it. There was a nice 90 pound thresher shark caught at Five Mile beach today. We still have a few fingers of warm water close offshorethe techniques of farming fish are a constant moving feast.
