Found a lump under my armpit. First it was miniature. The pain was not felt. Now rubbing and increasing. My friends like do not. Recently heard that it can be serious malaise. But I think, just fatty lump. Found understandable information about this lump. Now I'm not afraid of bad diagnosis. Everything is clear and detail is written down to the smallest detail.

Many have problems with the armpits. There are a lot of viruses. Then formed balls. They can be painful, but not always. It is better to know in advance about this problem. In this case there will be no fear of horror. Good, that now I understand this.
